So, you should try to do the same and see if it works for you. Follow the prescribed steps to unblock Media Creation Tool to the Desktop. You can also try this, as it won't take much of your time. Just right-click on the Media Creation Tool and select Copy, go to your Desktop, and hit Ctrl + V to paste the file. Or, drag the tool from your File Explorer to the Desktop in the right panel. This will do the job for you.4) Delete Software Distribution FolderThe Software Distribution Folder contains temporary files that can interfere with the process and cause the error code in question. We are going to clear the content of that folder and see if that works.First of all, open a Command Prompt as an administrator and run the following command.net stop wuauclnt stop bitsNow browse to the C:\Windows\SoftwareDistribution\Download folder and delete all the files and folders inside. You can hit Ctrl + A to select all the content and then Ctrl + D to delete them.Now in the Command Prompt windows, type the following commands one at a time, and hit Enter:net start wuauclnt start bitsFinally, execute the following command.wuauclnt.exe /updatenowNow, you can restart your computer and run the Media Creation Tool. Hopefully, it will work this time.5) Edit RegistryIf flushing out the Software Distribution folder didn't work, let us edit registries and see if that helps. For some users, the issue was caused by misconfigured Registry Editor and was easily solved by the following steps.Open a Registry Editor and search for the start. Navigate to the next location. Computer \ hKey local machine \ Software \ Microsoft \ Windows \ Currentversion \ Windowsupdate \ Auto update Haga click with the right bottle in the empty space, and select new Dword Mint (32-bit) value. Name it allow and establish the value data at 1. Save the changes by clicking on OK. As hard, restart your computer and try to execute half creation tool. With luck, this time you can update.6) Allow TLS/SSL or transport layer safety is protocol and it is necessary to execute the tool. If the protocol is disabled, you can see the error closure in question when trying to update your operating system with Media Creation Tool. So, we are going to enable it and see if that helps. Before moving forward, you must back up your registration if something goes wrong. Once the records are supported, open note and paste the following content. Windows Version controller 0.00 "Protocol" Now, save the file with any name, but ensure. It is better to save the file on the desktop and with a favored name to remember for a fussy access. For one, double click on the desk file, and the registration will be. The only thing that remains is now is to restart your computer and use the average creation tool. 6) TROUBLESHOOT IN CLEAN BOOT If nothing works, then we are going to perform Clean Boot.
